From ghoulies and ghosties and long-leggety
beasties
And things that go bump in the night,
Good Lord, deliver us

. . . . Scottish Prayer

We love to be frightened — to be scared blue! That is why we watch horror movies, read scary books and tell spooky stories late at night. Fright is a very desired emotion; if we cannot find it, we create it because we really do need it — all of us.

That is why we are really lucky when we discover tailored, made-to-order fright. The "Hairy Man" gives us that. He has for years and he continues to weave his ghoulish magic and probably will for another hundred years. The frightful, fearful, horrible "Hairy Man"; we fear him; we love him. He has become as much a part of our scene as Wednesday night movies, Thursday night dates, mid-terms, pool in the student center, pep-rallies, water fights and buddies. We hear about him from the veterans of nights alone at the 'tee' or in the darkness of the Alamo. People have heard him, seen him, talked with him, run from him, braved him and known him as a personal friend.

Who is the "Hairy Man"? Legend has it that this fellow, half-man and half-beast, has roamed the woods in this area for years. No one knows why he exists or what it is that he seeks. His insane screams have been heard by dozens of people throughout the years, screams which send chills of ravishing terror down the spine. One prominent citizen of the Scooba community, not known for his vague and inane ramblings, reportedly came face-to-face with the marauding beast in what can only be described as a close encounter of the worst kind. Walking through the woods one day at dusk, this gentleman, a sober-minded, down-to-earth leader of the community, came into a clearing whereupon the following episode was enacted:

"He was drinking at a stream, down on all-fours," the witness recounted. "When he saw me, he straightened up, standing upright. He looked at me and I stared back. For what seemed an eternity, but in reality was only a few seconds, we observed each other. Then he calmly turned and walked rapidly away into the woods like a man. He looked like a man and had a terrible smell about him. He strongly resembled a normal man, especially his eyes . . . . . those eyes."

No one can be certain where or when the "Hairy Man" legend originated. No one can be certain that he even exists. Montaigne said that "men are most likely to believe what they least understand." Maybe that is why we believe in this odd fellow who roams about us in the night. We really do want to believe. Even those of us who say we don't believe in him don't particularly like the idea of being alone on campus or in the woods nearby while thinking about him.

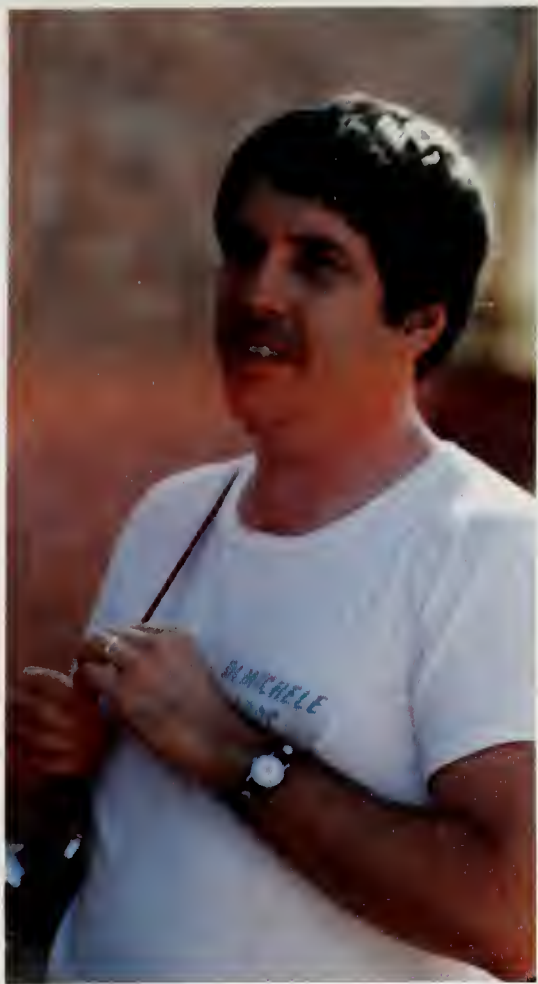

So, "Hairy Man", if you really are out there, we really do love you. And we fear you and respect you. You have given us that precious feeling that we constantly seek; that feeling that movies are made to exploit, that books are written to awaken, that stories are told around campfires to inspire — that wonderful, exhilarating, knee-knocking fright.

For this we gratefully dedicate the 1979-80 edition of the LION to you, our constant and foreboding nemesis.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

TO THE STUDENTS

In this my opportunity to reflect back over the year, I will speak for the East Mississippi Junior College Board, Administration, Faculty, and Staff.

It is with delight that we see students set goals and achieve them. We recognize that these are individuals with self discipline and we admire them. We are pleased if in some way our contributions have helped you.

Have you emerged from this year with an understanding of education and how it will be involved in your life? Have you a good grasp of education and what is useful in your life?

We have tried to awaken the mystery of your potential, share our thoughts, develop your feelings and provide you experiences that would feed a fertile mind.

The question of whether or not we have offered you a vision of greatness, an essence of roundedness, and a perspective of time will be answered by you. As the years come and go — our rewards will be the contributions you make to your nation, state, community, family and yourself. We will be justly proud for you and of you.

Kemper County Board of Supervisors are proud to be one of the six counties supporting East Mississippi Junior College at Scooba, Mississippi. Education is one of the most important factors in a child's life. To acquire an education, great support is needed from the parents, teachers, child and local government working together toward a common goal.

COMPLIMENTS of KEMPER BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

We're planting trees by the millions!

This year every man, woman, and child in the nation will use the equivalent of a 100-foot tree — for lumber, plywood and other wood panels, paper, packaging, and many other products made from wood and wood fiber.

Fortunately, trees are one of the nation's renewable resources. To replace the trees we harvest, we're planting new forests at a record pace — more than 150 million trees annually.
